BADEN is a small wine universe on its own – a rather warm and sunny one at that. It is bound on one side by the Lake of Constance, with its view of the Alpes, and on the other by the magnificent river stretches along the Tauber Valley. There's a section that contains the gently undulating hills of Heidelberg, and another with the Kaiserstuhl massif that rises high above the Upper Rhine River Valley. The center of the region is full of vineyards edging the Black Forest. The diversity of grape variety here is more than just a reflection of trends, but rather the natural result of real climatic and geological differences.

In the last decades, the focus is definitely developing to the varieties of the Pinot-family. With Pinot Gris, Pinot Blanc, Chardonnay and Pinot Noir all over Baden and Riesling in some of the specialized subregions.

VDP.CLASSIFICATION The key to the uniqueness of VDP.Wines is their origin. The soil, light and shade, wind, heat and coolness all contribute to making the wines exceptional and give them personality and character. The winegrowers in the VDP analyze these conditions in detail, consulting old vineyard maps, searching for appropriate grape varieties and evaluating the vineyards based on both their historical performance and current potential. Our VDP classification is based on a clear philosophy: the narrower the origin, the higher the quality

We award only the very best vineyards our VDP.GROSSE LAGE® designation. Wines from these vineyards shine through their uniqueness and distinctiveness. VDP.ERSTE LAGE® wines are also distinguished by their unparalleled ability to express the essence of a vineyard. VDP.ORTSWEINE come from a village's best vineyards. VDP.GUTSWEINE are the foundation of our origins-based philosophy and come only from our own vineyards. All wines from our winegrowers bear the VDP.Eagle on the bottleneck – as a trustworthy guarantee for the quality within.
