Job description: Sommelier and restaurateur

Questionnaire:

Where and how did you get the wine bug?

At one of my first employments at a Michelin restaurant, which had a massive wine cellar stocked with hundreds of bottles of older Bordeaux, Burgundy, and Champagnes. This experience sparked my passion for wine.

Your first encounter with German wines?

It was with a perfect bottle of Mosel Kabinett from JJ Prüm.

What is your favorite story to tell about German/VDP wine – have you had a highly emotional experience with our wines/producers?

My favorite moment from all my trips to Germany is the ambassador trip. We had a lot of great lectures and visits to producers. We even had the pleasure of meeting both Hugh Johnson and Jancis Robinson, who are, of course, legends in our industry.

How many bottles of German wine/VDP wines do you have in your cellar?

I'll keep that as a secret ;) But there are never too many!

What is your favorite vineyard in Germany – and why?

My favorite vineyard is Heerkretz in Rheinhessen.

When it comes to German grape varieties, what is your favorite? Riesling, Spätburgunder, or other?

Always Riesling! <3
